

Wright State University

CORE Scholar

Ruth Herr Papers (MS-91)

Special Collections and Archives

February 2019

Speech "Liberation? Equal Rights is the better term"

Follow this and additional works at: https://corescholar.libraries.wright.edu/special_ms91

Part of the Political History Commons, and the Women's History Commons

Repository Citation

(2019). Speech "Liberation? Equal Rights is the better term". .

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Special Collections and Archives at CORE Scholar. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ruth Herr Papers (MS-91) by an authorized administrator of CORE Scholar. For more information, please contact library-corescholar@wright.edu.

Liberation? - Equal Rights is the better term.

Women can work in factories ^{or any place of employment} (at less than men -) they can vote but must not have equal rights - they can enlist in the armed forces, but can't get equal pay for equal work. A widow can rear her family but on less than a man who can work & make more money - why deprive her of equal pay for equal work?

No one bothers about a man giving a woman a seat in a bus - it hasn't happened for years - that's out. He doesn't remove his hat - no matter what the or who the lady is - usually he has no hat. He blows his car horn & "bawls a woman driver out" because she's on the way to pick up friend husband at work, or get the kids at school. "Blow, blow" - "These damn women drivers ought to be off the street."

Yep - off the street, but millions of women work and make it possible for "hubby" to own a car, & even the house he occupies. Even his children are better fed.

He decides to leave his wife - away he goes. What happens? Do I have to go into that? Relief money from taxpayers pays the bill, or Mom works + supports the children - - - unequal pay - but Pop is out no doubt propagating another crop of kids for him to run away from, and for taxpayers to support.

Pop may be master, but not to many people in these modern times. He expects too much of "mom" - devotion, help, and an avid desire to get any money Mom may make while she takes care of the children between hours of work.

Years ago a woman was chattel, now if she asks for equal pay for equal work, it's awful. It's such an old worn out problem, so senseless and selfish for a man to underestimate his wife's work + wages when he is using what she makes himself. If he is smart he can selfishly see he's depriving himself of money he is making it difficult for his wife to earn

3

- Impact -

Did you ever expect men to be after teaching positions - even in primary grades - ? They are busily taking womens jobs. I hope they are successful in their efforts to give to the very young child that ~~wish~~ has been given by women teachers.

" If the man that yells - - - - -
 "I am the head of my family - my wife takes care of the children and the home" !!! - - - - - but but -

You - a man falls for another gal - leaves mom + the kids + the house - and the woman has to support the children - arrange for an altogether new life while Pop takes a new life with a new woman - - - - -

The wife left behind must work and her salary is slim - not equal to the man at the desk across from her - but a woman isn't able to do the work as well

4/ as the man — because he's a man.

— The laws aren't apt to do much for the woman — the atty. on the case is a man — — — — — see what I mean.

Don't kid yourself —

I know — my husband has another wife — young & childless — — — — he is a man so he could run away — the kids — — — — well they thought he was head of that family — — — — but Pop's gone — — — — who cares —

Make it hard for mom —
Look at statistics — — — — Thousands of women do not have equal property rights nor equal pay — — — —

We women are people, too —
+ who ever found that intelligence has sex? — — — —